

Depending on your payment structure, one month's or term's written notice is required if you wish to discontinue your private lessons. We reserve the right to stop lessons if the fees have not been paid as per the agreement.

Please give at least 48 hours' notice if you will miss a private class. If you miss a private class due to illness and you did not give sufficient notice, but you have a doctor's note, you may still catch up that class on another day that suits your teacher. If you miss a private class due to any other reason without sufficient notice, your class will be forfeited and you will need to pay for the class.

We reserve the right to withhold your examination results due to outstanding fees, which may include disciplinary action.

All examination fees that are paid to the international societies are for your own pocket and not refundable.

We reserve the right to withdraw you from an examination if we deem that you are not yet ready for the required standards of the examinations, or if you have not attended enough of your classes.

Under no circumstances may you contact any of the international societies for your examination results or make direct contact with the persons who examined you.

No written notice is required if you wish to discontinue drop in classes or the use of group class packages.

It is recommended that group classes are booked at least 24 hours before the class is taken. If no bookings have been made for the class, it may be removed from the schedule that week. If bookings have been made, bookings will remain open until the beginning of class.

To cancel any group class, 12 hours notice is required.

No class may be bought back, or transferred to another date or time, or swapped with another class within the 12 hour notice period.

Late cancellations or no shows will be counted within your package as through the class has been taken.

BBATA reserves the right to cancel any booking forthwith and without liability on its part in the event of any cause beyond the control which shall prevent BBATA from performing its obligations in connection with any bookings. In case classes will be cancelled, packages will be extended with the time the academy will be closed and paid drop in classes will be credited.

Should BBATA close due to circumstances beyond our control (including epidemics, riots or national crisis's) we will not be liable to refund any fees.

We will not be held liable for any injury sustained on the BBATA premises or any venue occupied by BBATA for training or entertainment purposes.

BBATA reserves the right to change times or adapt the class structures at any given time.

All classes and activities that you participate in are at your own risk. We are not responsible for any injuries, loss or theft of property.

At the year end, if no month or term's notice is given, your contract will be automatically be renewed for the following year.

BBATA may, in its sole discretion, change this agreement or any part thereof at any time without notice.
